

He is an accomplished academician with a passion for both literature and student development. With an extensive educational background and years of teaching experience, he has built a career centered on empowering students to realize their full potential. He holds an MA in English Literature, B.Ed. in Education, and M.Phil. In English Literature, MBA in Human Resource Management, highlighting his commitment to continuous learning and growth. He has been a dedicated educator for over 11 years, currently serving as an Assistant Professor at Loyola College Mettala, where he specializes in areas like soft skills, verbal aptitude, communicative English, activity-based learning, and employability skills. He also has a rich experience in conducting workshops and seminars focused on student development, which includes topics such as resume building, mock interviews, group discussions, entrepreneurship, goal setting, and work etiquette. In addition to his teaching, Mr. Mario Cassion Anand is deeply involved in community work. He is a volunteer Indian counselor with Communities Rising (USA) and has worked for over 6 years to support underprivileged communities. As a member of the Trust for Integrated Development, he continues to contribute to the betterment of society. His work spans across multiple fields, from student counseling to promoting youth and teacher development through seminars and workshops. A storyteller and traveller, He finds inspiration in the world around him, incorporating his experiences into his teaching and interactions with students. His belief in the motto "Docendo Disco, Scribendo Cogito" (By teaching, I learn; by writing, I think) reflects his continuous journey of learning and growing alongside his students. Driven by the ethos "Ad Maiorem Dei Gloriam Inque Hominum Salutem" (For the Greater Glory of God and the Salvation of Humanity), He is committed to making a positive difference in the lives of others